

What is the difference between the EPR and the Norfolk and Waveney Shared Care Record?

The EPR is a digital information system which staff will be able to view and record care information on. EPR notes will only be editable and accessible for staff in the three acute hospitals.

The Shared Care Record is a way of bringing together your most important records from different organisations involved in your health and social care. These are visible to frontline health and social care professionals, at the point of care, in a read-only view. This is much wider than just the acute hospitals and includes partners in the Integrated Care System such as primary care, mental health, community and social care providers.
